Leadership for Collective Intelligence (LCI) is an intensive 10-month learning experience that will give you the tools and support to make significant change within yourself and your organization. LCI requires a serious commitment that continues beyond the length of the course. Therefore, we ask that you complete the application with careful consideration.

Statement of Purpose

Please write a brief statement of no more than one page outlining why you would like to attend the LCI. We are particularly interested in how you hope to develop yourself as a leader, and what you would like to be able to do as a result of attending.

Personal Statement

Please tell us something about yourself, in no more than one page. Some options for what you might write about include, but are not limited to: a significant career challenge you have had, a dilemma or risk you have taken, a leader who has significantly influenced you, or your approach to a significant business or organizational problem.

Letter of Recommendation

Please submit a letter from a superior, colleague or champion explaining why you should attend the LCI. This letter should be from a person who will support you in your learning throughout the LCI experience.

Statement of Commitment

By signing this application, I commit myself to full participation, which means: attending all the LCI course sessions, completing all course work, including both in-session activities and interim assignments, and participating fully in the coaching process held in between program sessions.
